

The Role of Government in Services Sector

The Ministry of Municipalities and Public works is considered as the main institution that is responsible for laying down the national policies regarding all municipal services except electricity and telecommunications, since it is the ministry responsible for supplying drinkable water, waste water treatment, municipal roads networks, specifying the use of the state owned lands, urban planning, establishing the strategies of developing cities and rural settlements and improving its climate.. Etc